

DETAILED INSTRUCTIONS ON HOW TO SIGN UP FOR STOCK MARKET GAME

First, google "Market Watch game" or "Virtual Stock Exchange"

At the top toward the right, find and click where it says "Signup"

Fill in the information, including creating your own password. When entering your name, please put in your real name and not just some nickname because this is what will show up in the class standings and we will want to know who you are.

Once you hit "Register Now" you will get a confirmation email sent to you; you'll need to click on the received link to verify that you are you.

Next, go back to the initial page and click on "Find Game"

In the box where it says Find a Game, Enter a Game Now, enter DeNardo and when it gives you choices find the game that is your period and the current semester. Click on that game.

Then when it gives you a space that says "enter password" put in (ask a classmate for our class password) and click Join Game (please do not share the password with friends--if some mystery person pops up in the game i will delete them as soon as it comes to my attention)

Once in you can start making trades. Where it says Symbol Search/Trade, you will need to enter the ticker symbol of the company/ETF that you want to buy. To find a company's ticker you can just google for example, "Paypal ticker symbol" and you will find that its ticker symbol is PYPL. Enter the ticker symbol, then click on the company and click Trade.

Find the big blue dot near the top left of the screen. Drag it to the right to set how much of the stock you want to buy. Don't worry about the number of shares you are buying--what you are concerned with is the AMOUNT of money you will be investing (REMEMBER, NO MORE THAN $20,000 IN A SINGLE STOCK). You will need to scroll down a tiny bit to see the total amount of the investment. Click Submit Order to complete the transaction.
