

TAMALPAIS UNION HIGH SCHOOL DISTRICT
Larkspur, California

Course of Study

BRITISH LITERATURE Classical Course

I. INTRODUCTION: COURSE DESCRIPTION

A. This is a one-semester course for students who are interested in the development of English thought and language from the days of the Anglo-Saxons to the present time. Students will examine the historical context of the literature as well as particular authors, ideas, and styles. Class time will be devoted to reading, discussing, and analyzing selected groups of writings representative of major historical periods in the development of British writing.

B. British Literature addresses the following District student learning outcomes:

- #1. communicate articulately, effectively, and persuasively when speaking and writing;
- #2. read and analyze material in a variety of disciplines;
- #3. use technology as a tool to access information, analyze and solve problems, and communicate ideas;
- #10. analyze and propose solutions to contemporary issues using a variety of perspectives;
- #11. interpret, experience, create, and/or perform artistic work.

British Literature addresses the following Tam 21st Century Goals,

- acquire, manage and use knowledge and skills;
- think critically and creatively;
- develop respect and understanding for the diversity of our community;
- understand individual and cultural differences;

- take responsibility for self and community.
- C. British Literature provides an opportunity to study in more depth literature and themes that have been touched upon in previous course work at the freshman and sophomore levels.
- D. British Literature allows students to explore the British character through the various periods of literary history. The goals of this course include the following:
1. examine and study the various periods of British literary history;
  2. understand the major social, religious and political movements, identifying major writers of the times and recognizing their connections to trends;
  3. trace and identify some language changes in and linguistic influences on the English language;
  4. compare and contrast authors in choice of subject matter, purpose, theme, style, attitude and genre;
  5. exhibit an appreciation for style and tone in literature;
  6. use vocabulary developed through the study of literary terms and the authors' diction;
  7. use critical thinking skills in analyzing and interpreting literature;
  8. establish the connection between writing and thinking through regular practice of the steps in the writing process.

II. STUDENT LEARNING OUTCOMES

- A. Writing:
1. use the stages in the writing process, especially responding, revising, and editing (R/LAF W W/S 1.0; 1.9);
  2. apply basic grammar and appropriate vocabulary in the context of their writing (R/LAF W W/O 1.0);
  3. write well-developed essays using the thesis statement effectively to focus the essay, and practice patterns of organization, such as chronology, classification, and steps in a process, with appropriate transitional techniques, language and form to suit purpose and audience (R/LAF W W/S 1.3);

4. draw generalizations from recorded observation and experience—e.g., from stories, poems, journal entries, autobiographical and biographical pieces, descriptions and accounts—and support them with convincing evidence and examples (R/LAF W W/A 2.2);
5. use deduction and induction, understand logical fallacies, know what constitutes evidence and authority, while distinguishing between primary and secondary sources (R/LAF W W/A 2.2);
6. develop an interpretation that uses convincing textual evidence for support and explain the interpretation rationally to convince the reader of its soundness (R/LAF W W/A 2.2 a - e);
7. examine ideas and information from a variety of sources and draw conclusions about the point and purpose of that information and to evaluate the conclusions and determine whether or not they are sound (R/LAF W W/A 2.4 d);
8. analyze information from various sources through systematic notetaking, integrate material from outside sources into their own work, and acknowledge those sources (R/LAF W W/S 1.6).

B. Literature/Reading:

1. understand and use the language of literary criticism, such as setting, characterization, foreshadowing, symbolism, and metaphor; consult sources to enrich understanding; recognize the relationship of specific incidents to theme; understand an author's method of narration, i.e., who tells the story and how far the narrator is from the action; be aware of and understand shifts in point of view (R/LAF R L/RA 3.0 S/F 3.1; N/A 3.2, 3.3, 3.4);
2. put ideas in one's own words through such devices as paraphrase, precis, modeling, unscrambling sample passages, reading and interpreting maps, charts, and graphs; recognize that rereading enhances the reader's understanding and appreciation;
3. determine the author's point of view and distinguish his or her bias from established fact (R/LAF R C/A 2.2, 2.3, 2.4, 2.5);
4. recognize the importance of reading beyond the assigned works and use outside sources of reference; refine the use of research techniques;
5. develop a greater understanding of the contributions of ethnic groups by studying their traditions, their cultural stance, their similarities and differences (R/LAF R L/RA 3.5 b).

C. Speaking and Listening:

When speaking, students will:

1. function effectively in class discussion by answering and asking questions coherently and by clarifying responses with clear explanations; conceive and develop ideas that are soundly reasoned and well supported;
2. become more proficient in the various roles in editing and response writing groups; learn new roles: for example, panel chair, panel member, large group discussion leader, recorder, resource person;
3. learn argumentation techniques that allow both sides of a question to surface; learn skills in logic and reasoning to support arguments on conflicting sides of a question (R/LAF L/S O/D 1.5, 1.6);
4. give careful attention to preplanning a speech; develop a regard for the audience with respect to gaining attention, sustaining interest, making efficient use of time; learn skills in organizing for various modes of presentation: analysis, persuasion, explanation, interpretation, direction, and comparison (R/LAF L/S O/D 1.7 A/E 1.13);
5. practice oral interpretation of literature, using the techniques of emphasis, expression, dramatic pause, inflection; practice parts in dramas, attempting realistic character identity, fluency in reading dialogue, and appropriate tone and mood (R/LAF L/S S/A 2.3 a—e; 2.5).

When listening, students will:

1. develop techniques that promote supportive, polite concern for the speaker, and learn the skills necessary to offer tactful, constructive criticism;
2. identify main and subordinate ideas presented in lectures and discussions, and evaluate them for sound reasoning and convincing support; take into account the nuances, the subtle shades of meaning (R/LAF L/S A/E 1.11—1.14).

C. Student Assessment:

Students will be assessed through a variety of indicators including homework, group work, oral presentations, visuals related to the reading, quizzes on the literature, essays and other writing assignments.

Students will be expected to take an essay examination that requires them to apply the thinking and writing skills they have developed in order to synthesize and analyze material from three to four major works covered during the semester. Students will be expected to support their main ideas with specific examples from the works under discussion.

See the British Literature Resource Binder for sample assessments

D. Course Assessment

British Literature will be assessed through formal and informal surveys of the students. Course and unit goals will be reviewed by teachers on a regular basis.

III. METHODS AND MATERIALS

A. Methods

Students will complete a variety of interrelated writing assignments adapted from the James Moffet writing sequence. More than one paper may be required for each assignment. In addition to four process papers per semester, minor papers will be assigned regularly.

Eight different writing types have been identified as the focus for the upper division writing program: observation, reflection, controversial issue, interpretation, evaluation, report of information, autobiography, and speculation. See the introduction to the Upper Division program for specifics on the writing modes.

B. Materials

Every teacher of British Literature will teach a selection of the following titles to guarantee consistency throughout the district. Each student will read at least four major works per semester, with required reading including a variety of short stories, poems, novels, and nonfiction.
